The South Carolina Delegation
Speech of Provisional Governor Ferry.

More Pardons Applied For State of Society in Alabama
From Texas and Mexico.

GOLD CLOSED AT 142 5-8

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Times' Washington special says: The South Carolina delegation, headed by Gov. Perry, had an interview with the President at 4 o'clock this (Wednesday) afternoon, which resulted in the mutual satisfaction of the parties. It appears the delegation was suggested at various town meetings throughout the State, and the members had been selected and from that Gov. Perry had been elected provisional Governor of the State had been received. Gov. Perry first heard of his appointment when he had got seventy miles from Rome, the course of the interview of this afternoon, Gov. Perry secured the President of South Carolina would be represented by his Congressmen in the month of December next, and doubtless by the first day of the session. That the State would adopt the amendment to the Constitution abolishing slavery; that the parallel system would be established; that the presidential electors will hereafter be elected by a direct vote of the people, and, in general, the State laws will conform to the spirit and form of those of the Northern States and the federal Constitution. They will go forward by the evening, which will go forward by a special messenger to-morrow morning, calling a State convention, to meet on the third Monday of September, for the formation of a new constitution and for the consideration of the sovereign

Shipments Permitted in Tennessee--More Pardons Applied for--Further Reduction of the Army--From the Indian Country.
New York, June 20.—The Times' Washington special has the following: Secretary McCullough announces that shipments of arms, ammunition, gray uniforms and gray cloth may be made hereafter to and within the State of Tennessee.

Gov. Murphy, of Arkansas, has informed the President that he will not hereafter recommend persons for pardon who participated in the rebellion. Judging from the demonstrations such people made on the Fourth of July, he is satisfied they ought to be kept on long probation.

A special to the Tribune says:

Gen. Forrest, W. B. Brook, of Mississippi, and M. H. Bloodgood, of England, applied yesterday for pardon.

A special to the Herald says:

A spirited contest is going on for Naval officer of New York. Mr. Odell is strongly urged, while the friends of Mr. Denniston are active to keep him in.

There are but forty-two and one-half million dollars remaining of the last series of the 7-30 loan.

Government intends to reduce the army to one hundred thousand, if not fifty thousand men.

Advices from the Indian country are favorable to an early consummation of amiable relations with the tribes in the southwestern agency.

Speech of Provisional Governor Perry at Greenville, S. C.

New York, July 29. Provisional Gov.

NEW YORK, July 20.—A PROVISIONAL governor of the new republic of South Carolina today arrived at Greenville, S.C. on the 2d inst., before he knew of his appointment. His tenor may be inferred from the following expression:

Mr. Chairman: I will here frankly say, as I have often said during the past four years, that there was not a man in the United States who more deeply regretted the secession of the Southern States than I did at the beginning of the revolution; and there is not now in the Southern States any one who more bitterly regrets the humiliation and degradation of going back into the Union than I do. Still I know that we shall be more prosperous and happy in the Union than out of it.

He also said Jefferson Davis was not specially to blame for the failure of the rebellion; that the people, tired of fighting, had skulked from the field; that Johnston had 70,000 men on the muster rolls of his army, but only 14,000 in its ranks, and adds: Congress, too, Mr. Chairman, is greatly to blame for their exempting all between the ages of 18 and 45. They should have been forced into the army and kept there; it mattered not whether he was a doctor, lawyer, preacher, politician, editor or school-teacher,—if an able-bodied man he should have been sent to the army. But, strange to say, the three classes of men who were mainly instrumental in plunging their country into this mad revolution, were all exempted by Congress from fighting. I allude to the politicians, editors and preachers. This was not fair. The man who gets up a debt should always take a big share of

He also said: President Lincoln's death was no loss to the South; that he was a whig and non-slaveholder, while Johnson is a democrat, who has held slaves, and who voted for Breckinridge in 1860. Therefore, the people should have every confidence in him.

He ranks Lee next to Washington.

Commencement of Harvard College—
An Order for the Release of General
